

Lap Band Consultation

Lap Band Consultation

If an overweight individual is interested in the Lap Band procedure, he or she should schedule a consultation with a lap band surgeon to see if they qualify for the weight loss procedure.

The review process with a Lap Band surgeon can include looking at the previous dieting attempts that an individual has made, what their body mass index (BMI) is, and what their overall medical history is.